

Established in 1996
Thursday, June 6, 2002

artdaily radio
If you do not hear
the music after

Today's News

June 6, 2002

- Home
- Museums
- Exhibits
- Anecdotes
- Digital art
- Artists
- Architecture
- Photography
- Fairs
- Art Quiz
- Auctions
- Education
- Mythology
- Milestones
- Animations
- 360 Images
- Week's Photo
- Archives
- Last Week

Yahool ranks ArtDaily number one in art. Thanks!

Museo Patio Herreriano Opens in Valladolid

"The Isthms of Ramón Gómez de la Serna"

TAM Opening Exhibitions Feature Northwest Art

"Adrian Piper since 1965" at Generali Foundation

Student Exhibited at Sao Paulo Biennale Illegaly

Camden Arts Centre Temporarily Relocates

Bald Archy and Archybald Gnome Prizes

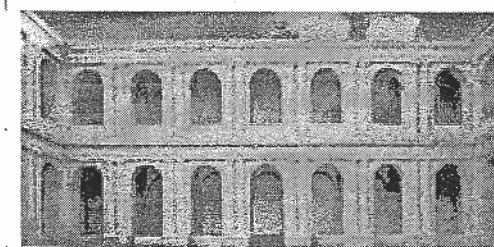

"Bill Viola: Something Above, Beyond, Below"

"Havana: The Revolutionary Moment" in N.Y.

Gallery Used Timber From Endangered Forests

Architect David Gosling, 67, Dies

"David to Cézanne" at Morgan Library

Museo Patio Herreriano Opens in Valladolid

VALLADOLID, SPAIN.- The Museo Patio Herreriano de Arte Contemporaneo was inaugurated yesterday by Spanisk King Juan Carlos. The king visited five of the eleven exhibit halls in the museum together with Javier León de la Riva, mayor of Valladolid and Juan Vicente Herrera, president of

- artdaily.com
- Welcome
- What is artdaily?
- Awards
- Referral Links
- Critics to artdaily
- Your comments
- Contact Us
- Advertising

Castille and León. The new museum is located at the San Benito monastery and will in the next five years the Contemporary Art collection, the largest private art collection in Spanish contemporary art by companies. The collection has works dating from 1918 to the present.

↳ Museo Patio Herreriano

Newsletter
Your mail here
Subscribe

Google

At last!